

Haslemere Health Clinic Covering Letter: Group M - "Restorative Sleep" Animatic.

Addressing previous feedback:

- We have altered the characters in the film to include a wider range of diversity in the stars' ages, disabilities, genders, and religions.
- While the film still begins by following the young star, we have added some new characters. The focus shifts between them and ends back with the young star.
- Our script has also shifted to focus more on solutions rather than bad outcomes.
- We removed the section showing the young star at school, to redirect the film towards a wider audience.

Animatic Context:

- As an animatic is simply used to set the tone and pacing of a film, this will not be the final visual style. In the animatic, the art style may appear to change throughout. This is because it is a rough animatic, and the final version will look more cohesive and polished. Especially in line weight and style.
- The animatic is in greyscale, but the final film will be in bright colours.
- While this animatic does include a few sound effects and a soundtrack, the final film will have much more refined sound.
- Below is an updated storyboard as well as a colour palette for the film:

Many thanks, Ollie, Cate, Bea, and Arber.
